

SDS Power Equipment Australia

Whether it be our range of portable or water cooled generators, log splitters, motorized barrows, or our electronic products, here at SDS Power Equipment Australia we are committed to bringing the highest quality products to regional Australia.

By marketing our products directly to our customers we do not support a chain of retail distributors and can offer wholesale prices directly to the market. Good business for us, great products and prices for you.

SDS Power Equipment Australia was founded in 2001, and has grown to include a range of products especially tailored to fit the needs of regional Australia. We travel extensively around the world visiting our factories, selecting products and providing technical feedback to ensure all of our products perform optimally in our harsh Australian conditions.

All of our products are backed up by our fully trained staff to help you with any advice required. If you need a spare part, it's not a problem, we carry spares for all of our products and are always happy to dispatch them to you promptly.

Thank you for your enquiry.

Bruce Shaw.
